Last Will and Testament

Article One

We, the class of 1955 of Butler High School, situated in the County of DeKalb in the State of Indiana, being in our usual unsound state of mind and memory, do hereby publish and declare this to be our last will and testament, revoking all former wills.

After twelve years' preparation for this final day, after strugging in vain with theorems and axioms and conjugations and declensions, do clean out our lockers (for a change), wave a fond farewell, bid our relieved teachers a sad adieu -- and as a last remembrance, leave these tokens to the fortunate and unfortunate members upon whom they may fall.

Article Two

The members individually will and bequeath their abilities, characteristics and private property as follows:

I, Kenneth Baxter, will my bookkeeping ability to Clark Moughler.
I, Beverly Beard, will my seat in history class to anyone who can get along with Mr. Ankney better than I.
I, Gail Bellamy, will that foreign look to Mary Wolfe, and my seat in government class to anyone who will enjoy it as I did.
I, Don Blair, will my luck to miss being tardy by less than a minute to any junior who needs his sleep.
I, Bill Boyer, will my muscles to Theron Snyder.
I, Rosanna Briegel, not being willing to will anything that anyone would be willing to get, will just will a pleasant "Good-bye" to everyone.
I, Clara Brown, since I have nothing to will, am willing to leave.
I, Kay Brown, will my messy locker which I have had for two years to anyone who's brave enough to open the door.
I, Curtis Casebere, will my ability to leave girls alone to Jeff Brown.
I, Carl Casebere, will my twelve-year record of no dates and my no shaving record to anyone who thinks he can do it.
I, Richard Creager, will my taxi service and my car for advertising purposes to the junior class to be used for all chili suppers.
I, Helen Eck, will my ability to go steady with one man and only one man to Ann Marie Miller.
I, Gloria Getts, will a stepladder to all underclassmen as short as I so that they can reach the ego of next year's seniors.
I, Ellen Grimm, will my seat in Miss Metz's class to anyone who thinks they can get into more trouble than I.
I, Ann Hartranft, will my height to Stanley Casebere (it will look better on you than me).
I, Charlene Higley, will my favorite saying, "My mother loves me," to any junior girl to be used in self-defense, whenever needed.
I, George Hill, will my even temper to Mr. Boling.
I, Roger Holman, will all of my money spent for pretzels to Clyde Chandler.
I, Lola Hulbert, will my ability to get 5's in Miss Macklin's class to any dope who takes speech.
I, Charlotte Imhoff, will my ability to catch a fellow to Miss DeWeese.
I, Jerry Johnston, will my ability to eat apples in Mr. Boling's bookkeeping class and get away with it to whoever wants to try it.
I, Marilyn Keller, will my ability to fight with Burgess Walter to Rose Surface.
I, Don Johnson, will my weight and height to Joe Albertson.
I, Carolyn Lane, will my ability to forget the most-needed essentials at the worst times to anyone who cares to be embarrassed as I have been.
I, Edith Love, will my ability to stay away from other girls' boyfriends to a certain junior girl. She surely could use it!
I, Mary Marquardt, will all the times Woodley has beaten me up to Sandra Doolittle.
We, Tom McConnell and Norman Stevenson, will the pictures on our locker door to anyone who can guess which one belongs to whom.
I, Larry McKown, will my first place in the district vocal contest to Mary Wolfe.
I, Dee Michael, will my lost shoe to Ruth Carr.
I, Redith Miller, will my big blue eyes to Janis Bacon. Good luck, Janis.
I, Wayne Moughler, will my 1936 Chevy and my careful driving to any sucker who is fool enough to take it.
I, Jim Parker, will my ability to make money for the class while having fun to anyone who isn't chicken.
I, John Powers, will my extra hotrod parts to John Smith for his Chevy.
I, Sandra Rimmel, will my ability to turn cartwheels without the use of hands to any future cheerleader who wants to be as embarrassed
I, Pat Rosenberry, will my ability to go steady with one fellow to my sister Deanna. Good Luck!
I, Janet Schoonover, will my ability to behave in Miss Metz's class to Sharon Werner, if she can behave as I have.
I, Sharon Seltenright, will my ability to hold my position as cheerleader for four years to anyone who has the courage.
I, Bill Sipe, will my curly hair to DeWayne Likes.
I, Linda Smyth, will my job working for "George" the sixth period to anyone who likes to run around.
I, Bill Souder, being of sound mind (since when?) and sad fate, do hereby will my ability to go steady with one girl and flirt with another to anyone who thinks he can keep two fish on the hook at the same time and get away with it. (I didn't!)
I, Sonny Spake, will my ability to run the projector correctly to Clayton Derrow and Dick Bacon.
I, Robert Stark, will my ability to chew gum in Miss Macklin's class to anyone who doesn't mind serving detention.
I, Don Tharp, will my slow driving to Keith Nichols.
I, DeVon Weicht, will my speedboat to any beautiful girl that will ride with me.
I, Howard Troyer, will the job of pushing my chair under the table in Ag. class to Merle Young.
I, Maryellen VanWye, will my ability to work for the teachers to anyone who hates to study.
I, Douglas Vose, will my girl-hating disposition to Jeff Brown.
I, Joe Wilson, will all of my seats in Cherry's classes to anyone who can stand it, and my Studebaker to anyone who has an oilfield.

Class Prophecy

Hotel Statler
New York City
June 15, 1965

Dear Dad,

Here's my report on the concert at Radio City Music Hall. Instead of Liberace, who is on his honeymoon with his fingerwave stylist, Ellen Grimm, I was honored with a performance by Larry McKown. Snooping backstage, I discovered Don Johnson busily setting up the scenery. Shouting even louder than he were Wayne Moughler and Sonny Spake, the technical directors. Standing in the shadows I found Curt Casebere, the curtain man, patiently awaiting the camera man, Doug Vose's signal for the curtain to rise. Standing with her mop and bucket, I found Charlene Higley, remembering way back when . . . (I noticed she had been up to her old tricks of sweeping dust under the piano.) Going around the corner, I collided with Norm Stevenson, who said he was AWOL from the Marines just to hear Larry. Entering Studio C, I saw Joe Wilson, the choreographer, with his famed Can-Can Girls. Among the best dancers were some of my old classmates: Redith Miller, Helen Eck, Janet Schoonover, Pat Rosenberry, Janice Hankey, Jean Wilson and Beverly Beard.

Hearing the beautiful tones of a tenor sax, I stuck my head in Studio B and there was Maryellen Van Wye, who reported that she has played in Liberace's orchestra for the past eight years. Going out to the lobby, I ran into Jim Parker, selling boutonnieres -- of all things! (I bought one.) While I was talking to him I heard a commotion in the other corner of the lobby. Elbowing my way to the front of the crowd, I discovered Mary Marquardt, the famous opera star, and her cool-headed agent, George Hill. Following close on her heels, (walking on them in fact) was Bill Souder, the author of "Why Mars is Green," with his secretary-wife, the former Edith Love. As the house lights dimmed, I walked over to check my hat and found myself tipping a dime each to Lois Hulbert and Linda Smyth. Stepping into the darkened theater, I was ushered to my seat by Richard Creager and Robert Stark. Then whom should I find sitting next to me -- Kay Brown and Carolyn Lane, who incidentally, own the largest nursing home in New York City. They informed me that in their psychopathic ward are my senior sponsors: George Cherry, Miss DeWeese, Miss Macklin and Mr. Livingston. (I guess that year back in 1955 was just too much for them.)

The curtain has just fallen, so there will be a slight delay in the program. Guess who was caught in the middle of polishing the candelabra? Dee Michael! During the delay, Rosanna Breigel came out and played her accordion. By the way, she's Dick Contino's new partner. Don Tharp, the director, along with the producer, Don Blair, introduced the co-sponsors: Hartranft and Bellamy, who displayed their Paris Fashions with the aid of their top model, Gloria Getts. Carl Casebere, who was representing the Buick division of General Motors, also said a few words. While the curtain was being repaired, I was entertained by Tom McConnell, the guest star, who has taken over the George Gobel Show. During Tom's act I was disturbed by the arrival of two people who were seated directly in front of me. It was Charlotte Imhoff and Bill Boyer. Their late arrival was due to their competing in the Mr. and Miss America finals. (They won.) I noticed she still has that sweet smile.

Just then a special bulletin was flashed on the screen. Marilyn Keller and Kenneth Baxter, who played in "Romeo and Juliet," were given the Academy Awards. This play, as you know, was directed by DeVon Weicht, who is now a three-time winner. Outside, still struggling desperately to get in, was Bill Sipe, pitcher for the Cleveland Indians, completely surrounded by autograph collectors. (I'm sending you one for the paper -- don't lose it -- he charged me two dollars for it.) Jerry Johnston just whizzed by -- speeding again. Already he holds the record at the Indianapolis Speedway. Next week he goes to Mexico to enter the Pan-American Road Race. He will be driving a car owned by Howard Troyer and Roger Holman.

I might have seen more familiar faces, had I stayed longer, but I had a dinner engagement with two Toni models: Clara Brown and Sharon Seltenright. Their commercials are on White Rain and Viv lipstick. Sharon's greatest competitor is an old classmate, Sandra Rimmel, who has the Revelon commercial on another network. I expected to come home after this assignment, but I am forced to mail this because I just got a hot tip that something is boiling in Washington. See you next week.

John Powers

Foreword

Down through the annals of time this yearbook will remain golden in its memories. This year's Tropaeum has been set up on a musical theme, so that as the years go by and the fires of life remain only as a dying ember and the grey-haired reader goes strolling down our musical memory lane, each keynote will ring aloud with golden memories of the reader's days at Butler High School.

Life and the world may change but memories may not. Only their freshness and prominence in the minds of men may fade through the ravages of time. So years from now a member of a changed society will open this Tropaeum and Big Brass will live anew in the reader's fading memories. From the cleff sign to the end of the staff, this Tropaeum will make the reader's song of life complete.

On May 25, 1955, fifty-one proud seniors will walk up to Mr. Lowe and receive their diplomas. This signifies that A Student has completed twelve years of schooling and is ready to take a place in his community. No meritorious awards are given for time and energy donated to make class projects a success. No signification is shown of the fun, disappointments, homework, lessons or knowlege which have been accumulated in those years.

As we took our seats for the first time in an educational institution, we were scared and a little apprehensive. The first thing we learned was obedience to the teacher. Next came the get-acquainted period. We played games, read stories, sang and participated as a group. We learned our ABC's and began to read and print our names. We received our first report cards and took them home to "face the music". We went on to the next grades, learning to write, multiply, divide and write themes, among other things. Like other kids we got out of line once in awhile and a session after school or a talk with a board made us see the error of our ways and we speedily repented our misdeeds.

Besides readin', writin' and 'rithmetic, we got in a little recreation. The annual Christmas operetta, the Easter egg hunts, the Christmas exchange, the Valentines and the plays we gave in class were interesting deviations from scholastic worries. Then as we entered junior high school some changes were made. We would soon be in high school, almost adults, and we were supposed to act as such. Finally came eighth grade graduation and at last we were full-fledged "high schoolers."

The feeling of queasiness we had as we entered the halls of Butler High School for the first time as students soon disappeared. The choosing of classes with a glint of proudness that we had finally become high school students. The almost haughty acceptance we gave the new freshman as we became sophomores. The hayrides when perhaps we stayed out later than we should have, but it was all in fun. The teacher who loved to give us homework, and the homework we didn't do. The envious looks in the eyes of underclassmen as we showed off our class sweaters and class rings. The clubs and extra-curricular activities in which we participated. The scrapes we got into and the sessions in the principal's office. We weren't really mean just a little ornery. The horseplay at the old concessions stand. The lectures we got for being a little lazy. And at last the big day. We're seniors Gosh, we finally made it! The thrill of being on top. The paper drives, chili suppers and other money-making schemes. Our senior pictures, name cards, announcements; it's a wonderful life! There are many other incidents that come to mind and they combine with what's already been listed to comprise our high school library. It's been a lot of fun and a lot of work but we wouldn't have it changed!

Tropaeum Staff

The 1955 Tropaeum got under way in the spring of 1954, when the staff was selected by the editor and the adviser from a large number of the Junior class.

The staff decided to enlarge the book and include more pictures and activities. In order not to increase the price of the book, it was financed not only through advertising but also through the following projects: grade picture sales, individual picture sales, picture auctions, Halloween festival stand and an all school skating party.

Pictures were taken by the yearbook photographers and two professional photographers through the year of all the important school activities.

After much discussion a musical theme was unanimously decided upon. In November the staff chose the yearbook covers and end sheets.

Everyone enjoyed working together during the year. Two or three meetings were held each week in the evening, and two each week during activity period. Due to the staff's efficiency and co-operation, the yearbook was completed on time and is bigger and better than ever.

Breeze Staff

The Breeze was very fortunate because it has come completely out of the "red" this year. Due to the robbery the year before, the staff had to work hard at the beginning of the year, but they were soon out of debt and had a good working capital.

There were ten issues this year. Everyone tried hard to make each issue better than the last. Pictures and cartoons were used more freely and the articles were followed closely by the student body.

Completed copy is due the third Monday of each month. This is sent to the Record-Herald office and the galley sheets are made. These are returned to the school and the actual paper is planned. It is then sent back to the Record-Herald office and the school paper is printed.

The Butler Hi-Y Club is proud to be a member of the largest school organization in the United States. Since no organization, no matter how large, can be any better than its weakest link, it strives to serve in the school as well as possible. Besides regular meetings there is a special program at Christmas time and a Hi-Y and Tri-Hi-Y banquet in April. Other services include the variety of films which are shown to the student body throughout the school year.

This is a record of services and activities hard to beat and one worth being proud of.

Chaplain. . . . . Sharon Seltenright

The Tri-Hi-Y combined with the Hi-Y at the first of the year to initiate new members into the clubs. A lengthy formal induction was held to impress upon the new members the aims of the clubs.

During the course of the year, the club had several speakers and also met with the Hi-Y several times at such occasions as the Christmas party and the formal banquet in the spring.

The Tri-Hi-Y has learned the great importance of co-operation and they have been active in bettering the school and the student body.

"Learning to do, doing to learn, learning to live, living to serve," is the F.F.A. motto. Its colors are "National Blue" and "Corn Gold" and the purpose is "to practice brotherhood, honor rural opportunities and responsibilities and develop those qualities of leadership which a future farmer should possess.

The major activity of the F.F.A. this year has been the farm adjoining the new school building. This project will finance the chapter, but most important of all is its value to the agriculture students as a place to learn and experiment with new and improved practices for crops and soil.

Other things included in the chapter's program of work were the scrap drive and pest contest for the purpose of helping to rid the community of scrap metal and farm pests such as mice, rats and sparrows.

Indeed, this year has proved to be one of the best and most successful yet for the Butler Chapter of Future Farmers of America.

Future Homemakers of America

President . . . . . Karen Billings
Vice-President . . Eleanor Clear
Secretary . . . . . Ann Hartranft
Treasurer . . . . . Rose Surface

The Future Homemakers of America is a national organization. Its purposes are to encourage democracy in home and community life, to develop creative leadership and to promote a growing appreciation of the satisfactions of homemaking. Membership is open to any girl in the high school.

The emblem of the F.H.A. is a house-supported by two hands symbolizing that the homes of America are in the hands of its youth. Their motto, "Toward New Horizons", expresses the purposes of this organization.

One of the projects this year is baby-sitting with the children of the P.T. A. members as a public project.

Their formal induction services are observed by F.H.A. clubs all over the United States. During a very impressive candlelight ceremony, the purposes of the club, and goals, are read to the new and old members alike.

Each year, eight members of the club go to the semi-annual meetings. An equal number of members from each club of this district also go. During this meeting, several different ideas on the planning and carrying on the various programs are discussed and voted on. It is also decided where the next meeting will be held.

The Butler High School Dramatics Club has, during the last year, developed into a very active group, with a large number of interested members. The club was first organized last spring and is the newest of organizations in the school. Plans are being made to receive a charter from the National Thespian Society at the start of the next school year.

The Dramatic Club's purpose is to further the students' understanding of the Thespian arts and to instill in them self-confidence in their own abilities. Several readings and short plays were given by the members throughout the year.

Language Club

Officers

President. . . . . Karen Walker
Vice-President. . . . . Joan Lowe
Secretary-Treasurer. . . Kay Bacon

The Language Club, the former Latin Club, consists of both Spanish and Latin students this year. The change was made because of the additional language taught this year.

At one of the first meetings, several new members were initiated. The new members arrived dressed as either Spaniards or Romans, depending upon which subject they studied. Their shoes were removed, put in a dark room, and then they had to be found. After this, penalties were imposed upon the new members.

Again this year the members were taught Latin Christmas carols which were used in caroling. Afterwards the club held their annual Christmas party in Underhill's basement. After several games and the gift exchange, the group was served hot chocolate, sandwiches and cookies.

Mr. Varda, at one meeting taught the group present several Italian expressions. Also during the year they learned some French.

The Spanish students taught the Latin students to count in Spanish and to play a Spanish game, Cuchiceo. Members entertained the club with their souvenirs from foreign countries and their experiences in foreign correspondence.

Booster Club

One of the reasons for the success of this year's basketball team was the backing of the Booster Club. The constant exuberance, faith in the abilities of the boys, and the yells of this organization helped the team out of many of rough spot.

As it was necessary to be a Booster Club member to get a sectional ticket, there was a rise in membership this year and the organization was the largest in the school.

The club, though not extremely active as a group, held pep sessions before every game and sold popcorn at the games. The money was used to make up the loss when fan buses were taken to games.

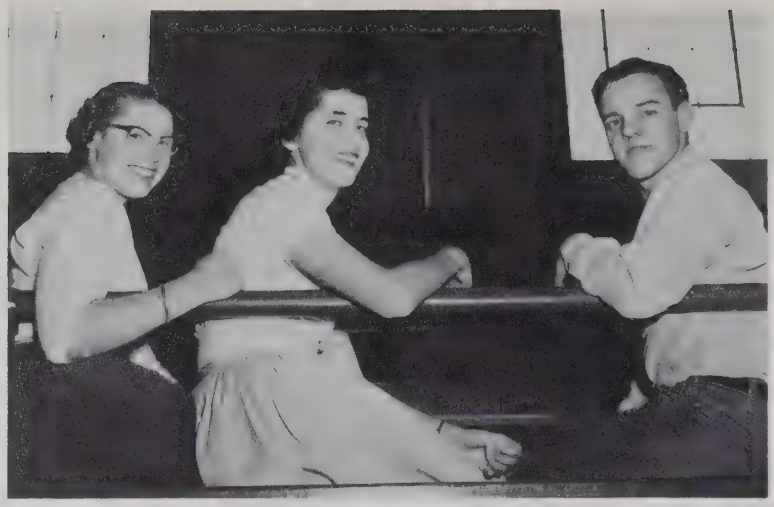
Student Council

President. .Charlotte Imhoff
Vice-President. Sonny Spake
Secretary-Treasurer. . . .
. . . . . Pat Rosenberry



Although the student council has been discussed many times, it has only been in operation here for the past three years. Each class elects two representatives, one boy and one girl. The home room also elects one representative. These pupils, under the guidance of the principal, Mr. Lowe, form the council.

This organization has been a very active one, setting up policies and passing resolutions. Every day a new problem arises, or someone has an idea for the betterment of the school or pupil. These are brought before the council for discussion and passed upon or dropped, as they deem the proper action.

One of the more prominent achievements of the student council was the establishment of the monitor system. These monitors not only police the hall but act as an information bureau for all visitors.

A later accomplishment has been the organization of the "National Honor Society", which is sponsored by the National Association of Secondary School Principals. Membership in this organization serves as an excellent recommendation for those entering college.

The band performed at the Auburn Fair and added colorful music to the annual Farm Bureau meeting. The Christmas program and convocations were improved by their selections--some of which were very original.

They had many solo and ensemble groups participating in the state and all-state contests.

Chorus

Chorus has been singing many Sigmund Romberg melodies. Many ensembles were organized to sing at several social organizations. Solos, duets, trios and two ensemble groups were entered in the state and all-state contests.

A fine Christmas program, consisting of a pantomine, a play and a rendition of the "Night Before Christmas," was given by both the grade and high school vocalists.

The traditional spring concert, held at Easter time, is the climax of a year of chorus activities and laborious rehearsals for public entertainment.

"Huckleberry Finn" based on the story by Samuel Clemens, was presented by the Junior Class on April 30 and May 1, 1954. In the history of the school, this was the first play ever given by two separate casts.

Huck Finn, who is filled up to the brim with all sorts of pranks, is into nearly every scrape that any young boy can find himself, along with his side-kick, Tom Sawyer, who can think of everything Huck doesn't.

Mr. Finn, Huck's father, shows up long after everyone has given him up for dead. He makes life quite unbearable for Huck and everyone concerned until Huck suddenly disappears without trace.

Huck is gone for nearly a year, and during this time, Mr. Finn changes his outlook on life and becomes a better man due to the influence of Aunt Polly, and the loss of his son.

Just as Aunt Polly is about to lose her home because of unpaid taxes, events take a turn for the better, and Aunt Polly is pleasantly surprised by the return of Huck.

"Amy! Oh, Amy, you look sweet!"

"Now we'll be able to announce our engagement."

Senior Trip

A track runner has a certain goal to attain, a challenge to meet. He knows that the reward he achieves will be only as great as he makes it. The class of 1954 might be likened to the track runner. Through the willingness that all showed to do their part in the paper-drives, concession work and production of two plays, and under the able leadership of their three sponsors, they were able to reach their goal--the senior trip.

So on May 25, 1954, fifty joyous seniors and two sponsors piled into the elaborate Columbian and left with shouts of, "The far east or bust!" The "far east" of course was Washington D. C. and New York City. Naturally there was very little "shut-eye" on that first night.

But bright and early on the morn of May 26 shouts of, "Land ho!" went up and everyone rushed from the train to see who would be the first to touch Washington soil. Here they checked in at the spacious Congressional Hotel, which is the exclusive home of many of the senators in Washington D. C. Their stay included a thorough trip around the capitol city. All were impressed with the beauty of the city and after visiting many historical places of interest, they once again boarded the train--this time for New York City.

To one who has never seen it, New York City is an exceptionally impressive sight--one that's not easily forgotten. Some of the sights they saw include: Fifth Avenue, downtown Manhattan, the waterfronts, and various skyscrapers. Anyone who went on the trip could tell you that New York is a busy place. It is a city that never sleeps--and neither did the seniors who went there.

On May 28 a tired group of seniors boarded the train for home. Indiana was a welcome sight to their tired eyes, but after they were rested any one of them would have told you that it was a wonderful time they had experienced, and a fine remuneration for their services at Butler High School.

Butler Windmills

The Butler Windmills, in one of the best seasons ever, closed their regular season with a tremendous record of eighteen victories to only two losses. This is the third season for Mr. Cherry as the varsity coach, and it is through his excellence that the team performed as skillfully and as sportsmanlike as they did. This was especially evident at the Sectional Tourney.

In winning eighteen games they defeated newcomers, Hicksville, New Haven, and Central Catholic, along with the usual powerhouses including Garrett, Concordia, Angola, and Riverdale. The first loss of the season was inflicted by the Railroaders of Garrett. This loss was in the first game of the Holiday Tourney after the team had reached a seven-game winning streak. Another winning skein, this one of nine games, including a thrilling County Tourney, was ended by a 58 to 55 defeat by Avilla at the Coliseum.

This team had two of the greatest scorers in Butler's history in Joe Wilson and Don Blair, both big factors in the team's success. The much needed hustle was inspired by the aggressive senior guards, Don Tharp and Jim Parker, and the forward, Bill Sipe, to make the fast break and zone defense possible.

In the drawing for the Sectional Tourney, Orland was matched with Butler. Orland's stall game failed but not without effort. After winning this one 52 to 38, Butler played Riverdale who had drawn the bye. After a slow start the mighty 'Mills proceeded to oust them 56 to 41.

In the semi-final round, nervousness overtook them as they dropped a thriller to the Auburn Red Devils, 56 to 52, thus bowing out of the tourney.

Injun Team

The Injuns of the 1954-55 team enjoyed a tremendously successful season in the ranks of the unbeaten. They played hard, fast, but clean ball all the way to win fifteen games against powerful opposition. They handled with ease teams such as, Central Catholic, Hicksville, and Columbia City, with only Fremont giving them a scare. They did not participate in the County Tourney as this was discontinued for second teams. An overwhelming record to be sure was the record of the men who will be next year's varsity.

The starting line-up at the beginning of the season was composed of four juniors: Ronald Herrick, Donald Herrick, Keith Nichols and Wayne Burdick, and a lone sophomore, Richard Lint. However, Bill Ringenberg, Earl Shultz and several other underclassmen were prominent although not seeing quite as much action as the first five. Before the season was completed, Donald Herrick had been promoted permanently to the Varsity to become a key backer of the starting line-up. Clayton Derrow, a sophomore, was brought back to the Injuns for additional experience and he became a strong rebounder, playmaker and scorer.

Baseball Team

The 1954 baseball team for the second time in a row won the Tri-County championship with Mr. Cherry at the helm.

Their fine record of six victories was marred only by their one loss at the hands of Angola. Angola lost one game also, but Butler won one more giving them a championship.

Bill Sipe was one of the outstanding players, as he was a junior when he was voted Most Valuable Player. He not only pitched and won three as to only one defeat, but played outstandingly at first base when not on the mound.

Left fielder Don Blair was the top hitter for the team, followed by Earl Shulz and Bill Sipe.

There are only four seniors leaving, all of whom were starters, which leaves twelve underclassmen of a fine team to carry on in future years.

Noon League

Noon League was started this year as a full-fledged activity for the purpose of providing noon entertainment for junior high and high school students. It was enjoyed by both participants and spectators with much enthusiasm, although trained skill was lacking.

To start off the year volleyball was played by the six upper grades with the seniors as the most prolific winners, although they were beaten occasionally by the juniors and once by the teachers.

At the start of the basketball season, with all attention focused on this sport, this game was taken up. The addition of two baskets on each side of the gym, was made for accommodating four teams instead of only two. This of course doubled the entertainment.

Every class participated at the start of the year with the juniors hardest of all to beat with their array of second team members. However, they were pressed hard at times by the Sophomores along with the talent packed by the eighth grade. The seniors were dropped due to an insufficient number of players.

The teams were coached by some of the varsity basketball players who also doubled as referees. The Noon League experiment proved very successful in its first year and will undoubtedly be continued for years to come.

Girls Athletic Association

This is the first full year the Butler G. A. A. has been organized. They have proved to be very active and are a great asset to the girls' sport program.

The G. A. A. plays every Wednesday during the noon hour. Their activities include volleyball, kick ball, basketball, and other sports to suit the season.

There are thirty girls in the organization with Mrs. Hampel as their sponsor. The officers for this year are: President, Beverly Beard; Vice-President, Maryellen Van Wye; Secretary-Treasurer, Sharon Robinette; Point Keeper, Linda Smyth.

The G. A. A.'s project for this year was a "girls' night of basketball", in which the girls participated with two teams. Everyone enjoyed watching the girls version of boys' basketball.

Acknowledgments

The Tropaeum Staff of 1955 wishes in this way to render their appreciation to the following people for their co-operation, help and support which made the publication of this book possible:

MR. ROBERT S. SUTULA of Elkhart, who donated so much of his time and effort to take pictures for us.

MR. HAROLD WALKER of Butler, who took the basketball and other action shots for our book.

MR. DALE HIGLEY of Butler, who permitted us to use his office building and typewriters for our staff meetings.

MISS ALICE DeWEESE, who spent many an hour rewriting, retyping and revising our mistakes.

ALL THOSE WHO SPONSORED PAGES IN OUR BOOK, whose financial aid has been greatly appreciated.

THE PURCHASERS of our yearbook--may you enjoy reading it as we did putting it out.
